

My time is valuable. I don't want to be interrupted during family meals or long distance phone conversations with out of state friends and family to listen to someone try to sell me something or ask for money. I donate my time and money to the causes and issues I feel are valuable and don't wish to be 'solicited' by everyone with a cause. My privacy is important to me. If telemarketers are allowed to begin calling me again, my time and privacy will be taken away. I cannot contact these people in their homes whenever I want so they should not be allowed to contact me without my permission.
